Georgia State University and the College of Law

Georgia State University is one of two comprehensive universities in the University System of Georgia. Its compact campus is in the heart of downtown Atlanta. Georgia State University has the largest graduate enrollment of any university in the Southeast and offers a wide variety of educational programs with an emphasis on urban needs and problems. The current budget of more than $70 million supports six colleges: Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Health Sciences, Education, Public and Urban Affairs, and the newly established College of Law.

In September 1982, the College of Law began operation on GSU's centrally located campus under a Board of Regents' mandate to obtain ABA accreditation as soon as possible. New, modern physical facilities have been provided, and the college, offering conventional first- and second-year law courses to both day and evening sections, has enrolled more than 400 students in its first two classes. Traditional third-year classes will be offered beginning summer quarter 1984, and a third first-year class will be admitted in September 1984.

The college currently has a full-time faculty of 12 experienced professional law teachers and an experienced dean. Its law library of more than 70,000 volumes is administered by an experienced law librarian and three professional librarians. An increase of 10,000 volumes annually is projected for the library.

National Accreditation

There are two national accrediting agencies for law schools in this country: the Council on Legal Education of the American Bar Association (ABA) and the Association of American Law Schools (AALS). The ABA rules allow for provisional accreditation after one year of completed operation; under its rules, full ABA accreditation is possible after three years of operation. When this occurs, all students who have graduated from a school that has been operating for three years in compliance with ABA requirements will receive degrees that will be acceptable throughout the country as ABA approved. The AALS has no provision for provisional accreditation; after five years, full accreditation by AALS is possible.

Every applicant should understand that the College of Law is not accredited at this time by any national accreditation agency. For three years there has been close collaboration with representatives of the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools. The college expects to be so clearly in compliance with the requirements of these accrediting agencies that provisional and then full accreditation will come in due course. Provisional ABA accreditation is anticipated in February of 1984, applicable to all graduates thereafter. Even so, it must be said that no representation is made that accreditation will come prior to the graduation of any matriculating student.

All potential students should understand that February 1984 is the earliest time provisional accreditation could occur.

Educational Goals

"I see the College of Law becoming a first-line professional school, more regionally oriented than the so-called national law schools—and with something more. Simply stated, this envisions expanding the opportunities for a legal education to the broad constituency of persons in a modern, densely populated urban community.

"The primary purpose of the College of Law is to establish and maintain an educational program in law leading to the Doctor of Law (J.D.) degree for both the conventional full-time law student and the student who must attend on a part-time basis because of financial needs, family responsibilities or otherwise.

"All students gain a knowledge of the law, of legal institutions and of legal processes. This knowledge becomes progressively more important to their upward movement, both vocationally and avocationally. A legal education in a law-oriented society such as ours realistically may be the only truly liberal education around."

—Dean Ben F. Johnson
The Prelaw Course of Study

The College of Law has adopted no specification of prelaw courses for prospective law students. The range of factors involved in law, in the development of law and in understanding law is broad and diverse, and for this reason a liberal education is generally considered the most favorable background. Prospective law students in a position to plan their undergraduate programs are advised to develop their prelaw courses of study around the goals of liberal education. Even so, prospective law students who have decided on law study after undergraduate programs of a technical or professional nature need not assume that they are inadequately prepared; more is involved than the form or substance of a particular undergraduate curriculum.

It is not easy to state briefly what law schools seek in prospective law students except to say that the focus of concern is not with any specified group of courses but rather with the quality of learning attitudes, methods and habits that are believed to be basic to the attainment of legal competence.

Here ideally are the objectives of prelegal education, and they suggest a prelaw program in which the student will have developed:

- Skill in the use of the English language
- Insight into, rather than merely information about:
  - the institutions and values with which man is concerned
  - the nature of people and the physical world of which they are a part
  - the structures, economic systems, political organizations, democratic processes and cultural heritages of Western societies
- The power to think clearly, carefully and independently, which involves:
  - research
  - fact completeness, fact differentiation and fact marshalling
  - deductive and inductive reasoning
  - reasoning by analogy
  - critical analysis
  - constructive synthesis
  - decision making

Undergraduate courses and activities in such areas as public speaking and debating will also prove beneficial to prospective law students. Moreover, in their undergraduate work, prelaw students should strive to develop personal study habits that will enable them to apply themselves with concentration and discipline over a prolonged period of time.

The J.D. Degree and Its Requirements

The course of study in the College of Law leads to the Doctor of Law (Juris Doctor or J.D.) degree. This is a professional degree in the legal profession comparable to the Doctor of Medicine (M.D.) degree, which is the professional doctorate in the medical profession, and the Doctor of Dental Surgery (D.D.S.) degree, which is the professional doctorate in the profession of dentistry. The J.D. degree denotes the successful completion of a course of study in law that is both professional and postgraduate.

Historically, the first professional degree in law was baccalaureate or undergraduate, the Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) degree. During the 1960s, when most of American law schools had come to the requirement of an undergraduate degree for admission to law school, there was a general movement to replace the LL.B. degree with the J.D. degree as the first professional degree in law so as to indicate its character as both the professional degree and a postgraduate degree. Degrees in law such as the LL.M. degree and the S.J.D. degree are recognized as advanced degrees in law study. The College of Law currently offers no advanced degree in law. The Doctor of Laws (LL.D.) degree is an honorary degree utilized by many universities to honor a person who has rendered distinguished public service in law or law-related careers.

At the College of Law, the J.D. degree is conferred by the university, upon the recommendation of the dean and faculty of the College of Law, after the completion of its 135-quarter-hour curriculum with a cumulative grade average of 73, or better, and with the required residence credit of nine academic quarters or the equivalent.
Curriculum

The curriculum of the College of Law is the same for all students enrolled as candidates for the J.D. degree. In general, the same course offerings will be available whether a student is enrolled in the nine-quarter program or the fifteen-quarter program (see Pages 4 and 5 for schedule distinction), but not necessarily during the same quarter. The curriculum is made up of required courses and electives.

The Required Courses

Of the 135 hours of course study required for the J.D. degree at Georgia State University, 72 hours are required courses. These are as follows:

- Administrative Law .......... 3 hours
- Civil Procedure .......... 9 hours
- Constitutional Law .......... 6 hours
- Contracts .......... 9 hours
- Criminal Law .......... 6 hours
- Criminal Procedure .......... 3 hours
- Evidence .......... 6 hours
- Legal Bibliography .......... 2 hours
- Legal Profession .......... 3 hours
- Litigation .......... 3 hours
- Property .......... 9 hours
- Research, Writing and Advocacy .......... 4 hours
- Torts .......... 9 hours

Students are also required to take these courses during their course of study at the earliest opportunity afforded by the schedule of course offerings.

The Electives

A student has the opportunity to elect at least 63 hours of course study. The following are courses that are expected to be offered as electives. These are not firm offerings. There may be additions or consolidations, and some may not be offered for some time to come. However, this listing illustrates the range of the elective curriculum contemplated:

- Antitrust Law
- Bankruptcy
- Business Associations
- Business Planning
- Commercial Law
- Conflict of Laws
- Debtor-Creditor
- Estate Planning
- Family Law
- Federal Income Taxation
- Federal Jurisdiction
- Federal Tax Procedures
- Federal Taxation for
- Estate Planning
- Fiduciary Administration
- Insurance
- International Law
- Jurisprudence
- Juvenile Law
- Labor Law
- Land Use Controls
- Legislation
- Local Government Law
- Mortgages
- Multistate Taxation
- Real Estate Transactions
- Remedies
- Trusts
- Wills

Counseling

Students are advised against the tendency to concentrate in any one area of law study. There is no requirement that a student select a "major" or even a "minor." Faculty members will gladly counsel with students about the wise choice of electives, but the objectives of a program of study should be diversity and balance. A student may, of course, take more than 135 hours so long as this does not result in an unreasonable overload in any quarter.

Seminars, Clinical Workshops, Independent Study

As a matter of future curriculum development, the College of Law expects to offer a variety of limited enrollment courses designed to provide opportunities for unstructured study and learning experiences involving in-depth concentration and research. These courses will be offered as seminars, clinical workshops and independent study.
Scheduling of Curriculum

For purposes of completing the 135-hour curriculum of the College of Law necessary to receive the J.D. degree, persons enrolled as candidates for this degree are offered the option of two basic course schedules. The College of Law will offer both a nine-quarter program and a fifteen-quarter program to provide flexibility for students' time schedules. The numerical reference is to the number of academic quarters required for the completion of the curriculum.

The Nine-Quarter Program

This program is designed for the student who devotes substantially all working hours to his or her program of law study. In order for a student to complete the nine-quarter program in the minimum amount of time, the required 135 credit hours and academic residence requirements must be met by taking 15 or 16 hours during specific quarters. (See the outline of the Nine-Quarter Curriculum on Page 5.) The student must take at least nine quarter hours to receive full residence credit for the quarter in this program. Without special permission from the Office of the Dean, and unless otherwise expressly allowed, a student in this program will not be permitted to enroll for more than 16 credit hours in a quarter.

For American Bar Association accreditation purposes, the college is required to enforce rules strictly with respect to outside employment of persons enrolled as full-time students. Employment other than in a student’s program of full-time study of law is restricted to time periods that will not adversely affect his or her law studies. A student who has outside employment for more than 12 hours in a calendar week will not be allowed to enroll for more than 12 credit hours. A student employed for more than 20 hours in a calendar week will not be allowed to enroll for more than nine credit hours without special permission from the Office of the Dean.

The Fifteen-Quarter Program

This program is designed for the student who wishes to engage in substantial employment while at the same time completing the required 135-hour curriculum by attendance at day or evening classes or both. In order for a student to complete the fifteen-quarter program in the minimum amount of time, the student must enroll for at least nine credit hours per quarter. (See the outline of the Fifteen-Quarter Curriculum on Page 5.) The student must take at least eight quarter hours to receive full residence credit. Without special permission, unless otherwise expressly allowed, a student in this program will not be permitted to enroll for more than 10 credit hours a quarter.

General Rules for Both Programs

Generally, it is not required that academic quarters in residence be successive. There will be a summer quarter offering of courses in both programs, and this will allow for acceleration in the completion of the required curriculum. Except for first-year required courses, a student, for one reason or another, may drop out for a quarter or more and, if in good standing, may resume his or her course of study in a later quarter. A student who is absent from the College of Law for four or more consecutive quarters will be required to meet the degree requirements in effect at reentry. However, a student who is enrolled in first-year required courses and who drops out during the sequence of such courses will not be permitted to resume his or her first-year course of study except in sequence. This may result in a year’s delay.

No minimum course load is required. However, registration for less than six quarter hours must be approved by the Office of the Dean. Moreover, credit toward a degree will not be given for otherwise creditable law school courses completed more than six years prior to a student’s projected graduation unless approved by the Office of the Dean and then only after passing a comprehensive examination thereon or presenting other satisfactory evidence of a satisfactory review.

If, under either of the programs, a student is not enrolled in or fails to receive credit for the minimum number of hours required for full residence credit, he or she may receive fractional residence credit in the appropriate ratio to the minimum specified.

When, in a given quarter, a course is offered both as a day class and as an evening class, a student will not be permitted to attend by alternating between such classes during the quarter but must attend regularly one or the other.

A student who has enrolled under the nine-quarter program may, at a subsequent registration, switch his or her enrollment to the fifteen-quarter program and vice versa. In this event, residence credits will be appropriately adjusted.

SUBSEQUENT QUARTERS

Elective courses as needed to complete course and residence requirements for graduation.

* In the nine-quarter program, classes will be scheduled each week hourly from 9 a.m. through the morning and afternoon and, perhaps, at times in the evening; Monday through Friday.

† In the fifteen-quarter program, classes will be scheduled each week from 8 a.m. to 8:45 p.m. (with a 15-minute break on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Each class will involve two 75-minute sessions and will be limited to a single subject. Occasionally, a single 50-minute class may be offered after 9 p.m. on Monday or Wednesday. See academic calendar for first day of classes each quarter.

Admissions

General Policy: It is the policy of the College of Law to admit to its classes only those applicants who possess the intellectual capacity, maturity, moral character and motivation necessary for the successful completion of its requirements leading to the Doctor of Law (J.D.) degree.

Beginning Students: Students beginning the study of law are accepted for admission only in the fall quarter and only as candidates for the Doctor of Law (J.D.) degree. Admission will be based on an evaluation of several factors: (1) an undergraduate baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university; (2) an acceptable cumulative grade point average on all coursework attempted in undergraduate study, approximately 3.0 on a 4.0 scale; (3) a recent LSAT/LSDAS report showing an acceptable Law School Admission Test (LSAT) score, approximately the 70th percentile; (4) specified letters of recommendation; (5) a personal statement by the applicant showing reasons why he or she should be admitted to the study of law at GSU.

There is no predetermined preference for any particular group or class of applicants. However, factors in an applicant's nonacademic background that may add diversity to the makeup of the class, and thereby enrich the educational experience of the group, may become factors of importance in choosing among applicants. Such diversity factors are: extracurricular activities indicative of leadership and organizational abilities; unusual work experience; unusual career objectives; geographic origin; advanced study or degrees in other disciplines; and unusual ethnic, racial, cultural or socioeconomic backgrounds. A personal interview is not required. Anyone whose application when considered in its entirety indicates that he or she does not appear capable of satisfactorily completing the required course of study among the students who will make up the class for which the application is made will not be admitted.

Transfer Students: A student who wishes to transfer from an ABA- or AALS-approved law school will be considered only after completion of the first year of law study. A student who has been excluded from another law school and is ineligible for readmission at such school will not be admitted to the College of Law. Each prospective transfer student must provide a letter of good standing from the dean of the current or previously attended law school stating that he or she is currently in good standing and eligible to return and ranks approximately in the upper half of his or her class.

No credit for advanced standing will be allowed for courses completed at law schools that are not nationally accredited. No credit for advanced standing will be allowed for any law school course completed with a grade lower than a “C” or its equivalent.

A transfer student who is admitted to the College of Law must understand that in order to receive the J.D. degree from Georgia State University, he or she must: (1) satisfy the degree and residence requirements applicable at the time of admission; (2) meet the residence requirement of at least six full quarters of residence or the equivalent at the College of Law; and (3) earn at least 90 quarter hours of the total 135 hours required to graduate at the Georgia State University College of Law.

Transient or Guest Students: Law students who have completed a minimum of one year of law study at an ABA- or AALS-approved law school in good standing and are interested in attending the College of Law in a transient or guest status should write the College of Law. Approval of courses and a letter of good standing from the student's own law school are required.

International Applicants: International applicants should understand that, if accepted, special grading standards do not exist in the College of Law. Any applicant whose native language is not English is required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) to demonstrate a satisfactory level of proficiency in the use of the English language. Such applicants should apply directly to TOEFL, Educational Testing Service, Newtown, Pennsylvania 18940, for further information and appropriate application forms.

Continuing Legal Education (CLE) Courses: The College of Law, from time to time, will be offering CLE courses. These are noncredit courses, and no special approval is required for registration.
Preliminaries to the Admissions Process—LSAS/LSAT/LSDAS

Anyone planning to begin the study of law at Georgia State University should obtain a copy of the current LSAT/LSDAS Registration Packet. This can be obtained directly from Law School Admission Services, Box 2000, Newtown, Pennsylvania 18940; telephone 215/968-1001. It also may be obtained upon written or telephone request from the College of Law, Georgia State University, University Plaza, Atlanta, Georgia 30303; telephone 404/658-2048.

The Law School Admission Test (LSAT) and the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS) are very important in the admission process of any nationally accredited law school.

The LSAT is a standardized test designed to measure certain mental abilities important in the study of law, and it aids law schools in assessing the academic promise of their applicants.

The LSDAS provides participating law schools with a report covering LSAT results, a summary of an applicant's academic work, and copies of college transcripts. Central processing of transcripts eliminates the need for applicants to send separate transcripts to several law schools.

The LSAT and the LSDAS are the basic services, among others, provided by the Law School Admission Services (LSAS), whose purpose is to provide fast and efficient service and organization to the law school admissions process.

Note: The code number for the Georgia State University College of Law is 5251.

Use of LSAT Scores in the Admissions Process

The College of Law will use LSAT scores only as one factor in its admission process. Indeed, an applicant's cumulative grade point average may be a more probative factor. Moreover, as indicated in the statement of the admission policies of the College of Law, other nonacademic factors are also considered, including letters of recommendation from educators that are focused precisely on the applicant's scholastic abilities and potential.
Application Packet

An application packet is included in this publication to facilitate your application to the College of Law and expedite its consideration. The packet contains the following:

- One application form
- One law student character reference request
- Two law student educator/employer recommendation requests

THE RECOMMENDATION (Attach statement of recommendation)

Character and personal integrity are important considerations with respect to persons who aspire to become members of the legal profession and wish to associate themselves with an institution such as the College of Law, which aspires to assist in their preparation, and with others who are like minded. For this reason a character recommendation must be completely candid. Brief letters in general terms are of little value. The recommendation letter should state the extent of your acquaintance with the applicant and to the best of your knowledge and belief his or her reputation for honesty and integrity. If you know of circumstances which reflect favorably or adversely on the character of the applicant, a full disclosure of what you know will be appreciated. Because of federal legislation giving students access to educational records, the College of Law cannot guarantee the confidentiality of your statement unless the applicant has signed the waiver printed above.

Please complete the information below and return this form attached to your letter of recommendation. No action can be taken on this student’s application for admission until this form and the recommendation are received by the Office of Law Admissions, Georgia State University.

Application for Admission

Your application may consist of seven components. Some of these are optional or may not be applicable. Otherwise, all are required and must be received before any further processing of the application will take place.

1. The application form must be completed, signed and returned to the College of Law.

2. The application fee of $10, by check or money order made payable to Georgia State University, must accompany the application itself and be identified by the applicant’s Social Security number. This is a nonrefundable fee and will not be credited to tuition or any other fees or charges in the event of admission. Your cancelled check or money order receipt will be your receipt.

3. A completed LSDAS report must be received by the College of Law directly from LSDAS. It is your responsibility to make the necessary arrangement with LSDAS to ensure completion of this requirement.

4. We are serious about a character reference because serious responsibilities are involved in the practice of law. This should be requested of someone who is not related to you but who knows you well enough to endorse you in this respect; this could be your minister or a church or fraternal associate, a lawyer, a judge or public official, or any other person with whom you have had business dealings over an extended period of time.

5. Two letters of recommendation are required in order to focus on your scholastic ability, work habits, industry, dependability and potential for success in the study and practice of law. These letters should not be requested of persons who are related to you; they should come from professors under whom you have studied or, if you have been out of school for some time, from your employer or, if you have worked in a law office or in some law-related work, from someone who knows the caliber of your work. Composite letters from the placement office of your undergraduate college are acceptable. Some undergraduate colleges have a committee of prelaw advisers who make evaluative assessments of prelaw students. Such reports can be very helpful.

6. A statement by each applicant in support of his or her admission is required. This is your opportunity to add anything you wish to say about yourself, your abilities and your interests. One of the important aspects of legal method is to evaluate and summarize evidence as it relates to a particular issue. The issue here is your admission to law school. An important aspect of your application is a sample of the way you think and express those thoughts in a statement on behalf of your admission. Be brief and to the point.

7. As our stated admissions policy indicates, we are interested in nonacademic factors in an applicant that could add diversity to the makeup of the class and the student body. Such diversity factors include extracurricular activities, unusual work experience, unusual career objectives and advanced study or degrees in other disciplines. An applicant wishing to do so may add a supplement to the application to acquaint us with these factors in his or her background.

No personal interview is required.

Application Deadline

Although there is no official application deadline at the College of Law, your completed application material should be received at the earliest possible time. A rolling admissions procedure has been established for the College of Law. Simply stated, this means that upon completion of an applicant's file, an admissions decision will be made; those applicants who meet the admissions requirements will be offered a place in the fall class 1984 and upon receipt of a deposit will have a class space reserved for them. It is to your advantage to complete your file at the earliest possible date.

Again, you are reminded to obtain a copy of the current LSAT/LSDAS Registration Packet and make plans to take the LSAT at the earliest possible date. To obtain a LSAT/LSDAS Registration Packet contact:

Tuition and Matriculation Fees

Tuition

The University System of Georgia requires no general tuition fee of students who are legal residents of the state of Georgia, and there is no charge for instruction, except for certain courses requiring instruction on an individual or small-group basis.

Matriculation Fee for Resident Students

Each student is required to pay matriculation fees. A student who is a legal resident of the state of Georgia, according to the regulations of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia, and who has been a legal resident of the state for at least 12 months preceding the date of registration must pay resident matriculation fees. These fees are payable before a student is officially registered each quarter.

College of Law Matriculation Fee:
$35 per quarter hour

Matriculation and Tuition Fees for Nonresident Students

Each student who has not been a legal resident of the state of Georgia under the regulations of the Board of Regents (see "Regents' Requirements for Resident Status" listed in another section of the bulletin) for at least 12 months preceding the last day to register without penalty shall pay the following matriculation and tuition fees before the student is officially registered:

College of Law Matriculation: $35 per quarter hour
College of Law Tuition: $69 per quarter hour
Total: $104 per quarter hour

Student Activity Fees

A student activity fee of $20 is charged each quarter to every student registered for courses to be conducted at Georgia State University.

All tuition and other fees are subject to change without notice by the Board of Regents.

Housing Information

There is no residential housing for students at Georgia State University. Listings of available apartments, houses for rent, rooms and living quarters are available from the Dean of Students Office, Room 442 Student Center, Georgia State University, University Plaza, Atlanta, Georgia 30303.
Telephone: 404/658-2204

Financial Assistance

The College of Law has a limited number of scholarships, assistantships, resident waivers and loan programs available to qualified students and applicants. For further information on these forms of assistance, contact the Office of the Dean.
Regents' Requirements for Resident Status

A person's legal residence is his or her permanent dwelling place. It is the place where he or she is generally understood to reside with the intent of remaining there indefinitely and returning there when absent. There must be a concurrence of actual residence and of intent to remain to acquire a legal residence.

Students/applicants who are classified by Georgia State University as nonresident but who later claim to qualify as legal residents must file a "Petition for Georgia Residence Classification" form with the residency auditor in the Office of Admissions. A student's residence status is not changed automatically, and the burden that the student qualifies as a legal resident under the regulations of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia rests with the student.

Petitions for Georgia Residence Classification and all supporting documentation must be filed with the residency auditor no later than 60 days after the beginning of a specific academic quarter for which classification as a legal resident for fee payment purposes is requested. Petitions received after that time will not be considered for that quarter. If the petition is approved, classification as a legal resident for fee payment purposes will not be retroactive to prior quarters.

To be considered a legal resident of Georgia, the applicant/student must establish one of the following to the satisfaction of the dean of admissions.

1. (a) If a person is 18 years or older, he or she may register as a resident student only upon showing that he or she has been a legal resident of Georgia for a period of at least 12 months immediately preceding the date of registration.

(b) No emancipated minor (sui juris) or person 18 years of age or older shall be deemed to have gained or acquired in-state residence status for fee purposes while attending any educational institution in Georgia in the absence of a clear demonstration that he or she has in fact established legal residence in Georgia.

2. If a person is under 18 years of age, he or she may register as a resident student only upon showing that his or her supporting parent or guardian has been a legal resident of Georgia for a period of at least 12 months immediately preceding the date of registration.

3. A full-time employee of the University System and his or her spouse and dependent children may register on the payment of resident fees.

4. Nonresident graduate students who hold teaching or research assistantships requiring at least one-third time service may register as students in the institution in which they are employed on payment of resident fees.

5. Full-time teachers in the public schools of Georgia and their dependent children may enroll as students in the University System institutions on the payment of resident fees.

6. All aliens shall be classified as nonresident students; provided, however, that an alien who is living in this country under a visa permitting permanent residence shall have the same privilege of qualifying for resident status for fee purposes as a citizen of the United States.

7. Foreign students who attend institutions of the University System under financial sponsorship of civic or religious groups located in Georgia, may be enrolled upon the payment of resident fees, provided the number of such foreign students in any one institution does not exceed the quota approved by the Board of Regents for that institution.

8. If the parents or legal guardians of a minor change their legal residence to another state following a period of legal residence in Georgia, the minor may continue to take courses for a period of 12 consecutive months on the payment of resident fees. After the expiration of the 12-month period, the student may continue his or her registration only upon payment of fees at the nonresident rate.

9. In the event that a legal resident of Georgia is appointed as guardian of a nonresident minor, such minor will not be permitted to register as a resident student until the expiration of one year from the date of court appointment and then only upon proper showing that such appointment was not made to avoid payment of the nonresident fees.

10. Career consular officers and their dependents who are citizens of the foreign nation that their Consular Office represents and who are stationed and living in Georgia under orders of their respective governments shall be entitled to enroll in University System institutions on payment of resident fees. This arrangement shall apply to those consular officers whose nations operate on the principle of educational reciprocity with the United States.

11. Military personnel, and their dependents, stationed in Georgia and on active duty, except military personnel assigned to University System institutions for educational purposes, shall pay the same fee assessed residents of Georgia.

Do It Once.
Do It Right.
And Never Do It Again!

WE PROVE OURSELVES EVERY YEAR

BRG of Georgia, Inc. continues to prepare the vast majority of law graduates throughout Georgia. Much of the success can be attributed to our ability to stay one step ahead of bar exam changes, react appropriately and get the information into our students hands at the earliest possible time.

A COMBINATION YOU CAN'T BEAT

Local office and administrator combined with a national expertise and network to serve all your needs.
This includes: Full transferability for any enrollee to any BAR/BR1 state at any time with full discounts, were applicable.

WE'RE WITH YOU EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

BRG of Georgia, Inc. has become an integral part of law school through first year review preparation, early sign-up programs and of course, the final hurdle, "The Bar Exam."

A TRACK RECORD YOU CAN COUNT ON!

BRG of Georgia, Inc. students consistently outperform all other candidates truly making the bar exam a once in a lifetime experience.
