As the second year of the operation of the College of Law comes to a conclusion it is appropriate to recognize those various components within the College of Law and those individuals whose activity and leadership have contributed mightily to what has been accomplished by the College of Law. They are a diverse group. They have joined together with each other, and with many others from beyond the law school community, in a splendid demonstration of operation toward a common goal - the success of the College of Law. For this, we welcome this occasion to salute you.
